5. Conference: Elisabeth of Bohemia (1618-1680) – Life and Legacy. Philosophy, Politics and Religion in Seventeenth Century Europe

(Center HWPS, Paderborn/Herford, Germany, May 18-20, 2018)

Elisabeth of Bohemia (also known as Elisabeth of the Palatinate) was one of the most famous scholarly women of the 17th century, who is best known today for her correspondence with the René Descartes. But it is only recently that she has begun to be considered as a thinker in her own right. The conference aims to produce a new evaluation of Elisabeth by setting her in the context of the most Intellectual, religious, political and historical currents her time. The conference will be held jointly at Paderborn University and nearby Herford, where Elisabeth spent her last years as Princess Abbess.
