

CfP: IAPh 2021 Defining the Future – Rethinking the Past

As part of the IAPh 2021 Defining the Future – Rethinking the Past conference, we are issuing a new and updated call for papers.

We thank everyone who has submitted a paper for the upcoming World Congress of the International Association of Women Philosophers. We would like to inform you that we are currently planning a hybrid event. This will involve certain parts taking place in person and other parts only online via a conference portal. We are also happy to announce that we extended the deadline for some submissions and workshops until the 30th of April 2021 and have added a section on COVID-19 and philosophy.

Submissions are possible until April 30, 2021. For more information please visit our conference webpage.

Direct access to the CfP is available here.

---

Videos: EchoTechGender Visions

An important part of the IAPh conference 2021 is the gathering and collection of various visions from people of different origins, convictions and backgrounds. To change the world and the values of philosophy, we need the voices and words of various committed people. Our mission is to present those visions, which includes rethinking the past to define the future.

We have combined these visions in an innovative format under the name EcoTechGender Visions. The Visions are a new format that is part of the EcoTechGender project, which was founded in 2006 by Ruth E. Hagengruber.

Conference: Stein's and Husserl's Intertwined Itineraries 1916-25

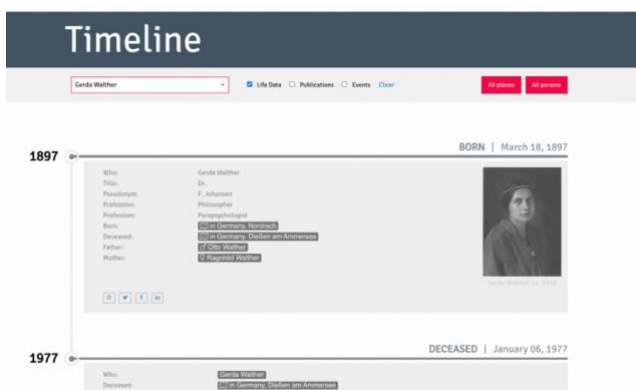

The Center for the History of Women Philosophers and Scientists (Paderborn University, Germany) in cooperation with the Department of Philosophy (Maynooth University, Ireland) announce an international online conference, organised by Mette Lebech, on

Intersubjectivity and Person: Stein's and Husserl's intertwined Itineraries 1916-25 with focus on Ideas II

Speakers include Angela Ales Bello, Jagna Brudzinska, Timothy Burns, Antonio Calcagno, Emanuele Caminada, Margaretha Hackermeier, Kathleen Haney, Sara Heinemaa, Julia Jansen, James Jardine, Mette Lebech, James McGuirk, Ronny Miron, Anna Varga Jani, Francesca de Vecchi and Mariele Wulf.

Visit the conference project page here.

Timeline: Gerda Walther

To commemorate Gerda Walther's birthday on March 18, we would like to point you to our Timeline of Women Philosophers. Gerda Walther was a student of Edmund Husserl and Alexander Pfänder and one of the women in early phenomenology.

Learn more about Gerda Walther in our Directory or check out her entry in the first Timeline on women philosophers detailing their lives, works and scientific networks to create new insights into the history of women philosophers!

Videos: Celebrating Émilie Du Châtelet's Birthday

On December 17, 2020, the Center for the History of Women Philosophers and Scientists and its Director, Ruth E. Hagengruber, invited Project Vox to celebrate Émilie du Châtelet's 314th Birthday with the first ever online celebration.

Andrew Janiak (Duke University and Director of Project Vox) presented his talk on the Originality of Du Châtelet's Philosophy and Clara Carus (Paderborn University and CenterHWPS) talked about the Principle of Contradiction in Émilie Du Châtelet - the recordings are now available!.

---

New Voices on Women in the History of Philosophy

Clara Carus, Assistant Professor at the Center for the History of Women Philosophers and Scientists (directed by Ruth Hagengruber), has launched the project New Voices on Women in the History of Philosophy. New Voices is a group for emerging scholars who work on Women in the History of Philosophy. It is a place to connect and to foster communication on our work. Take a look at the members here.

If you are interested in becoming a member of New Voices, please contact: clara.carus@uni-paderborn.de.

---

Additional updates on the history of women philosophers can be found on our news website.

For staying up to date with the activities of the Center, follow us on Facebook, Twitter or Instagram or visit us on YouTube for new videos on women in the history of philosophy.

---

Please send messages to the list to this address.

To UNSUBSCRIBE or manage your subscription visit this page.